

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

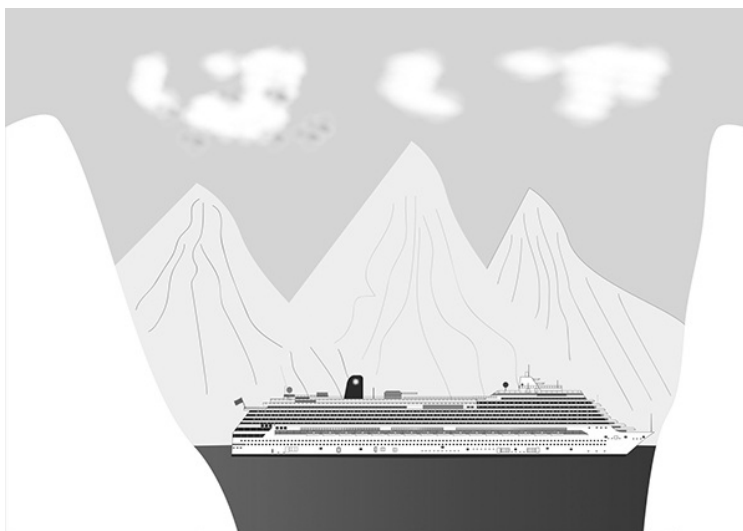

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

An Arctic cruise sounds pretty cool.

Learning Outcome

Exchange advice and suggestions in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What do you know about the Arctic? What kinds of animals would you find there?
- If you could see any animals in their natural habitats, which animals would you like to see? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about nature and the animal world.
- I can discuss how to deal with problems.
- I can talk about hypothetical situations.

Let's Explore!

Peter and Sally discuss how to get in touch with nature. What does Sally suggest?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Sally: Peter, if nobody cared about narwhals or any other animals in the world, there wouldn't be any animals left to care about!
- Peter: You're right, Sally. I ought to watch more documentaries about wildlife. I feel so disconnected from the natural world.
- Sally: You could go on an Arctic cruise - see the animals in their natural habitat. It might help you feel more connected. You could go whale watching off the coast of California. I heard it's an incredible experience.
- Peter: If I wanted to do that, I would buy a lottery ticket ... again! This time I wouldn't give it away to a friend ... I'd better start saving money now.
- Sally: If you really wanted to go, you could save enough in a few months. We could go together!
- Peter: You know, an Arctic cruise sounds pretty cool. What can you see?
- Sally: Narwhals, seals, polar bears, walruses and maybe an Arctic fox - they are so cute!
- Peter: Wow! I had no idea there was so much variety in the Arctic!
- Sally: See ... you just need to know what you're fighting for!
- Peter: Let's fight for the cause together, Sal.

Let's Practice!

What would happen if ... ?

Instructions: Proofread the sentences. Correct the incorrect word. Practice reading the sentences aloud with a partner. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

If nobody cared about narwhals or any other animal in the world, there aren't any animals left to care about!

If I want to do that, I would buy a lottery ticket.

If you really wanted to go, you could to save enough in a few months.

You could see a lot of animals if you go on an Arctic cruise.

People would learning a lot if they watched more documentaries.

Let's Practice!

What do you suggest?

Instructions: Read the sentences. Choose the correct answer.

1) I _____ more documentaries about wildlife.

- a. 'd have to watch
- b. ought to watch
- c. might watch

4) _____ whale watching off the coast of California.

- a. You'd better go
- b. You might go
- c. You could go

2) You _____ on an Arctic cruise.

- a. ought to go
- b. might go
- c. could go

5) _____ start saving money now.

- a. I better
- b. I'd better
- c. I'd better to

3) It _____ you feel more connected.

- a. might help
- b. might helps
- c. might help to

Extension Activity

Read about some organizations that fight for the preservation of wildlife in the world.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Go online and read about an organization (or two) that fights for the welfare of animals in the world.
- What did you learn? Write down a few points that interested you about the organization.
- Share and discuss what you learned with a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I read and write about an organization that fights for wildlife preservation.

☐
☐

I share what I learned with a partner.

☐
☐

I write about anything new I learned about wildlife.

☐
☐

Target Words

- disconnected (adjective): removed from an issue; out of touch e.g. I feel so disconnected from the natural world.
- documentary (noun): a show or film that is factual and includes real-life events and people
e.g. I ought to watch more documentaries about wildlife.
- Arctic (noun): the area around the North Pole
e.g. You could go on an Arctic cruise.
- seal (noun): a fish-eating mammal with a streamlined body and feet developed as flippers that lives in the ocean
e.g. You can see seals on an Arctic cruise.
- polar bear (noun): a large, white bear found in the Arctic e.g. You can see polar bears on an Arctic cruise.
- walrus (noun): a large mammal with two large tusks that lives in the Arctic Ocean
Example: You can see walruses on your Arctic cruise.
- Arctic fox (noun): a small, white fox found in the Arctic e.g. You might be able to see Arctic foxes.
- cause (noun): an important idea or problem that necessitates action and support
e.g. Let's fight for the cause together, Sal.

Learning Points

The Second Conditional - Talking About Hypothetical Situations

You use the Second Conditional to talk about imaginary (hypothetical) or unreal situations in the present or future.

For example:

If I had a million dollars, I would buy a car.

Do you have a million dollars? No.

Is it possible to suddenly get a million dollars? Not really.

What would you do if you had a million dollars? Buy a car.

You use the Simple Past verb + would

IF	Condition	Result
If	I went on an Arctic cruise,	I would be able to experience nature at its finest.
If	an Arctic fox appeared,	I would be very excited.
If	I were you,	I would save a little money each month towards a cruise.

Remember to use a comma (,) after the IF clause. You don't need a comma if the condition comes after the result in the sentence.

For example:

I'd go on an Arctic cruise if I won the lottery tomorrow.

In conversation, it is common to use contractions. (I would = I'd.)

Examples:

- If nobody cared about narwhals or any other animals in the world, there wouldn't be any animals left to care about!*
- If I wanted to do that, I would buy a lottery ticket.*
- If you really wanted to go, you could save enough in a few months.*

Learning Points

Giving Advice

You use modals to give advice.

The most common modals for giving advice are: should, ought to and had better.

You can think of modals as “helping verbs”. They add meaning to the main verb of a sentence. In this case, these modals add the meaning of advice.

Should is the most common modal used to give advice.
Ought to and had better are used for giving strong advice.

Subject	Modal	Main Verb
You	should	read	more about wildlife preservation.
You	ought to	be	more careful about disposing of your garbage.
You	had better not	do	more to protect the whales.

- In conversation, it is common to use contractions with had better.

